The 2001 Promising Practices Monograph Series Is Now Available!

- ❖ Volume I— *Wraparound: Stories from the Field illustrates promising practices in the implementation of the Wraparound process through the stories of six families, with the intent to advance understanding of the individualized services and supports provided through a Wraparound process. Written by the Center for Effective Collaboration and Practice at the American Institutes for Research.
- ❖ Volume II— *Learning From Families: Identifying Service Strategies for Success examines the success stories of families with children who suffer from emotional and behavioral disorders, and of the providers who work with them, to learn which services and approaches show the most promise. Written by the Research and Training Center for Children's Mental Health, Louis de la Parte Florida Mental Health Institute, University of South Florida.
- ❖ Volume III— *Promising Practices in Early Childhood Mental Health, through an extensive literature review and examples of promising practices, develops a picture of state-of-the-art practices in early childhood mental health services. Written by the Research and Training Center on Family Support and Children's Mental Health, Regional Research Institute, Graduate School of Social Work, Portland State University.
